

Nestlé Skin Health Announces Leadership Team

Lausanne, Switzerland (March 11, 2015) – Nestlé Skin Health today announced organizational changes at top management level to support the company's expanded market opportunity and ambition. "Our goal is to grow the number of people the company serves to over a billion within 10 years, by offering skin health solutions that protect, maintain, nourish and enhance skin health and, when skin health is compromised, treat, correct and restore the skin to its healthy state," said Humberto C. Antunes, CEO of Nestlé Skin Health S.A. and Chairman of the Board of Galderma Pharma S.A. "We are focused on enhancing the quality of life by delivering science-based solutions for the health of skin, hair and nails."

Galderma will continue to partner with healthcare professionals around the world to provide innovative medical solutions in dermatology, while a Consumer Skin Health business has been created to focus on meeting skin health needs in the broader market place worldwide.

Stuart Raetzman is appointed CEO of Galderma Pharma S.A. which includes Prescription, Self-medication and Aesthetic & Corrective medical solutions. "Our unique focus on the skin clearly positions us as leaders in the dermatology market and this is set to continue" said Stuart Raetzman.

Albert Draaijer, formerly Senior Vice President Markets & Franchises at Galderma, is appointed Senior Vice President, Consumer Skin Health. "With this new structure, our existing brands, such as Cetaphil and Daylong, we will find new channels and reach even more consumers, while allowing us to develop new science-based solutions for people around the world" commented Albert Draaijer.
